DING Membership

WHAT WE OFFER

If you join DING, you first and foremost get a good place to pursue your own design practice and it comes with an entire community, since we believe that a lot of things can be done more creatively and courageously in a collective.
Our atelier in the 20th district includes a courtyard, a fully equipped kitchen, two office spaces with flexible and assigned tables, a prototyping lab, a workshop for metal and wood working, a basic screen printing and ceramics workshop, a storage room and a 140m² gallery space for exhibitions, events, etc. We share all spaces as well as most of our equipment, and our group hosts multiple events a year (exhibitions, workshops, design residency, markets) that all interested members can co-create. This yearly program is funded through cultural partners.

Costs: 190,- per month.
Our important conditions:
To keep the costs this low, we all share tasks (1-2h per week at max.) that keep the studio running smoothly.
All DING members contractually commit to partaking in these tasks, sharing spaces responsibly and giving a 3-month notice in the case of a membership cancellation.

WHO WE ARE LOOKING FOR

We're always looking for people whose work we admire, someone to learn with and whose company we enjoy. If you are a creative working in the design field and/or a really adjacent one, you do enjoy working on projects that are critical in nature, one of a kind and/or push for better futures – we might just be the place. If you enjoy creating spaces for design and are eager to host your own workshops and partake in exhibitions, etc. you should definitely introduce yourself.

If you're interested, please contact us via mail@designingesellschaft.com, tell us about yourself, share your portfolio, socials, life plans etc. as well as your optimal move-in date. We'll share your request with all members and will invite you for a coffee should there be the chance of a match!

We do not offer solo rooms or other types of membership, DING comes as it is <3
